Blogging for Global Impact!

Project Title	Blogging for Global Impact!
Project Summary	Welcome to the TechCamp team! You will be a part of a team that brings innovative tech ideas and solutions to audiences all over the world in order to make an impact on global policies. You will be a part of our communications team, writing success stories that feature our trainers and participants.
Country	United States

Project Description

As a TechCamp intern, you'll be connecting with TechCamp alumni and trainers to tell the story of some of the terrific projects that come out of our global events. One day you might be covering a media literacy campaign that's helping educate students about fact-checking in Cyprus, and the next you'll be talking to an individual in Ghana that helped motivate youth to vote in a historic election, or maybe you spend some time talking to one of our trainers about how whats app can be used to motivate discussion on policy. We'd love for your input in designing content and strategies for social media and identifying good stories to highlight. We're also looking for new ways to design virtual programming to reach participants across the globe. Creativity welcome!
